

Lisa Stearns Award Checklist

The North American Neuromodulation Society (NANS) and the Women in Neuromodulation (WIN) established the Lisa Stearns Award to encourage clinical and scientific work in cancer pain interventional therapies and neuromodulation. The award is given to honor the legacy of Dr. Lisa Stearns and is accompanied by a $1,500 grant, generously provided by Medtronic, Inc.

To be considered for the Lisa Stearns Award, you must submit the following:

- A personal statement delineating clinical, educational, scholarly and administrative accomplishments as well as detailed description of area of expertise
- A curriculum vitae (CV)
- Three letters of recommendation from established neuromodulators and/or physicians with extended experience in interventional cancer pain management
- (Optional)* A two-three sentence description of the applicant's potential NANS Mid-Year Meeting presentation if chosen
- Brief statement delineating the category (clinical, scholarly, educational, administrative) where applicant believes he or she qualifies for the award.
 - Clinical
 - Scholarly
 - Educational
 - Administrative